The seawall proposition is hung up pending reply to the committee's letter from the A. & C. The committee forwarded the letter to Mr. Hammond, who referred the matter to T. H. Curtis. Tomorrow night the Empire Stock Company will open its four nights' engagement at Fisher's opera house in the great comedy-drama and eastern success, entitled "Capital Vs. Labor." Seats on sale at Griffin's book store.

The four-masted schooner David Evans arrived Friday evening from Honolulu, after a passage of 22 days. She met with varying weather and her master reports that she covered two-thirds of the distance in the last seven days. The Evans brings four stowaways, who were discovered shortly after the vessel departed from Honolulu. The men were sailors who had grown tired of the islands and who wanted to get back to the mainland. Captain White put them to work. The Evans brings a clean health bill and was passed by Dr. Earle.

Charles H. Hall, one of the prominent members of the Astoria Rod & Gun Club, expresses the opinion that some of the west side lakes ought to be stocked with black bass. Several of the 20 or 25 lakes there have no outlets, Mr. Hall says, and he believes they would make excellent ponds for black bass. This fish is regarded as the "gamest" of all from the viewpoint of the sportsman, and Mr. Hall is satisfied if proper effort were made the lakes could be stocked. It is highly probable some action in line with the suggestion will be taken, and that the lakes of the west side will be made attractive for fishermen.

A treat is in store for all lovers of Shakespeare in this city, as a lecture on that most interesting play, "King Lear," is to be delivered by the Rev. H. H. Gower, rector of Trinity church, Seattle, next Tuesday evening, June 7, in the Sunday school room of Grace church. The lecture is to be given under the auspices of the Young Men's Brotherhood of the church, and the well-known ability of the lecturer insures a good attendance. Tickets at 50 cents may be procured from any member of the brotherhood. Seldom if ever has such a high-grade lecture been delivered in this city at such a modest figure, but Mr. Gower is interested in brotherhood work and manifests it in this practical and instructive way.

On next Saturday evening the Woman's Club will give a rose show at the A. O. U. W. hall.

The funeral of the late Charles A. Johnson will be held this afternoon, the funeral cortege leaving Pohl's undertaking parlors at 11:30 in the morning. The remains will be taken to Deep River, where the funeral services will be held. Interment will be at Deep River cemetery.

Dr. J. A. Fulton yesterday filed with Auditor Anderson a mild protest against the manner in which the improvement of Franklin avenue between Ninth and Twelfth streets was made. Dr. Fulton says that the street is not up to grade in places, and that the specifications have not been lived up to by the contractor in several respects. The subgrade was never properly raised, Dr. Fulton says, and the improvement is not such as should be accepted by the council. The doctor declares he does not want the council to gather the impression that he is an obstructionist, but that he believes the improvement should be at least substantial. The letter will be presented to the council Tuesday night. It seems there has been more or less complaint because of the manner in which the improvement was made, and the contractor has been "jumped" by wrathful property owners. He insisted, however, that he had made the improvement in accordance with the plans, and in support of his statement displayed papers from which certain sections had been obliterated. He explained that these sections had been stricken out by agreement with the city officials, but some of the property owners say Auditor Anderson declares there has never been any such legal agreement. It is plainly the intention of the property owners to insist upon an improvement in accordance with the plans, and if the council does not heed Dr. Fulton's protest, more vigorous action will be taken.
